MAKES GREAT RUN

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 26
(INS.)—The giant Zeppelin ZR-3, built for the United States navy, landed at 5:25 o'clock this afternoon after completing a successful trial flight
across Germany.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—Germany's greatest dirigible, the ZR-3, nearing the end of its farrowell trip over the Fath-erland before its delivery to America
in part payment of the penalties imposed by the Versailles treaty, reached Berlin shortly before 10 o'clock today. A frenzy of enthusiasm greeted the giant sky cruiser.The ZR-3 followed the historic street under der Linden, described a circle above the imperial castle, headed toward Staaken and returned to describe a giant circle around the whole city. The big ship came so low in its flight over the city that windows shook from the vibration of its motors.Though familiar with the Zeppelins appearance from war time experiences Berlin residents on early morning trains on motor cars and on bicycles streamed toward the airdrome at Staaken, the training site
of some of the most famous pilots of the war.From windows in business buildings, house-tops and from the boulevards the city waved and cheered
while hoarse throated factory whistles greeted a welcome. Word of the ZR-3's progress over North Germany
since its departure from Friederichshafen at 9 o'clock yesterday had stirred Berlin to keen anticipation long before the arrival of the air traveler.Steamer headlines in morning
newspapers heralded the Zeppelin's triumphant arrival and scored the terms of the treaty which makes the dirigible the last German can produce."Last German Zeppelin's Triumphant Flight" one headline read. The text followed pointed out to all Germany the proud achievement of the ZR-3's crew. The farrowell flight was described as a national affair. The Allies were bitterly assailed, in editorial comment, for depriving Germany of chances for further progress in aircraft construction. Under the Versailles treaty the Zeppelin plant, which produced the ZR-3 will be torn down after the dirigible makes its departure for America probably the latter part of next week.Radio reports received from the air cruiser told of its arrival at Stet-
tin at dawn after a successful night
cruise over the Baltic sea, flying a course along the coast toward Koenigsberg. The motors toward the test perfectly. The American commission abroad, including Cap. George W. Steele, Commander Sidney M.
Krause and Lieut. Earl Schmidt of the United States navy and Major Harold Geiger, of the United States army, expressed great satisfaction
with the ship's showing.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 25.
—A presidential campaign via dirigible
in 1923, forest fires smothered
by carbonic acid gas bombs hurled from the air and defense of America's coastline against the wily rum runner by air cruisers, even larger than the monster ZR-3, were forecast in a look into the future of aviation today
by Ernest A. Lehmann, vice president of the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation of Akron, Ohio.The veteran dirigible pilot, hero of some of the most daring escapades
of wartime flying, made these predictions in exclusive interview with International News Service in the huge hangar of the ZR-3 as he supervised the finishing touches for the

LIFE ON THE SPECIAL
CARRYING COOLIDGEWashington, Sept. 26 (INS.)—The President and Mrs. Coolidge returned to the White House from Philadelphia early this morning, unaware that their special train killed a man on the return journey.The man was M. D. Plaine, a brakeman, who had climbed atop the tender. As the train went under a bridge on the outskirts of Baltimore he was struck and thrown from the train, dying almost instantly.Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Johnson and daughter Cecil, of Bellefonte, are

ica, probably by the end of next week.
Swings around the circle will be made in the next presidential campaign aboard airships of the ZR-3 type, Lehmann predicted. All imaginable conveniences would be provided the candidates as they rested, free
from the cinders and jolts of train
travel, while their air cruisers journeyed to cities where speeches would be made from the gondolas of the airships."I also foresee the time when airships even bigger than the ZR-3 will be used by the United States Government for the protection of its coasts against rum runners," Lehmann continued. "Their giant searchlights
would make landing of contraband
practically impossible."Dirigibles will be used in forest patrol, preventing and extinguishing fires which have been costing your northwest millions of dollars every year. They will drop bombs containing carbonic acid gas, quickly smothering the flames."Lehmann, who has never lost a ship, although he undertook some of the longest and most perilous of the war flights, will be one of the two pilots of the ZR-3 in its trans-Atlantic trip to America under the command of Dr. Eckner. He is "the real father of long distance lighter-than-air
flights," having made the first cruise
of more than four days in a fighting Zeppelin. Up to that time aeronautical authorities had contended that neither crew nor motors could stand a trip of more than two days. On this trip, Lehmann piloted a dirigible
over the Baltic Sea, remaining in the air 101 hours, or 30 hours longer than the ZR-3 is expected to need for its journey to America.Lehmann's most famous exploit was the shelling of Calais from an airship 5,000 feet above the city. A basket was suspended 2,000 feet beneath the ship, from which an observer telephoned his commander the results of the bombardment.The new dirigible industry at Akron will be under the direction of Lehmann, who has spent six months
in the Ohio city acquiring a fluent knowledge of English. He will take with him a dozen of the best German experts on airship construction, including Dr. Arnstein, known as "the scientific brains of modern airship de-Fair Crowd Greatest In Local

PROGRAM TONIGHT

The "big day" of the big fair is now history and the management of the Clearfield Co. Fair were privileged to entertain yesterday more than 35,000 people, who found much enjoyment throughout the big enclosure
during the afternoon and evening.The crowds during the day and evening were, without a doubt the largest ever assembled on the Clearfield fair grounds and in itself denotes the interest being taken throughout this section of the State in the big Clearfield county fair, the one county fair in Pennsylvania
which gives the patrons even more than they advertise.Every nook and corner about the big fair grounds was crowded yesterday, the big new grandstand coming into its own for the first time. Our people, who have been educated to stand along the fence and watch the track events were a little slow to take advantage at the start of the handsome accommodations provided for them in the new stand but Thursday's crowd broke the ice and almost every seat in the big stand was taken at both the afternoon and evening entertainments.The great number and variety of the farm exhibits was most favorably commented upon by the thousands who crowded the section of the park devoted to this exhibit, while the poultry exhibit was crowded by interested visitors from morning until night.Game Keeper Reareck and his State Game Commission zoo vied with the poultry exhibit thousands of the fair
visitors making special visits to Reareck and his woodland scene. They remained to marvel at the beauty and number of the specimens of game
birds and animals gathered there and that such a mild manner "old fellow" as Reareck could be so "wild" as his surroundings denoted him to be.
Mr. Reareck gave a number of trapping demonstrations during the day
and imparted a wealth of woods lore
to his auditors during the day. He was glad to cry quits when darkness came.The big exhibition building never presented a more interesting appearance, each firm represented appearing to attempt to outdo his competitor and all previous efforts. So dense was the crowd here all day and evening that not one fourth of those who desired could possibly squeeze into the hall.The track show was again a winner, King Bros. wild west being styled
one of the best free shows ever given at any fair in this section of the State. The races were thoroughly in keeping with the general schedule of things throughout the park and were great. Every heat was a race and never, on the local track, were a bunch of horses more evenly matched from the head to the foot of the list,
and never were races more hotly contested, while Judge B. F. Yates, of Circleville, Ohio, was a perfect judge and starter.The spectators were given a real thrill in the third heat of the 2:17 pace. There were seven entries and the horses were speeding down the back stretch, pretty well bunched,
on the first round of the half mile track of the heat. A. M. Chamberlain, of Lewisburg, driving "Herman Stokes,"
who won the first heat of the race,
was leading. Geo. F. Palmer, of Savannah, Geo., with "Choice Peter,"
was close behind and "Mamie Metzgar" and "Bill Pointer" in third and fourth positions. Chamberlain's right line broke and being thrown off his stride by the accident and pulled toward the edge of the track by the left line "Herman Stokes," a remarkably sure-footed horse, went down with the other three horses named running into the wreckage and tumb-Democratic Committee
Of County Luncheon And
Revises Some Rules.A meeting of the Democratic County Committee was held in the ball room at the Hotel Dimeling yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, pursuant to the call of County Chairman W. Wallace
Smith, Esq. Very nearly every election district in the county was represented and County Chairman Smith says most encouraging reports were had from almost every district.Some minor changes were made in the party rules one of which provides for the election of a female representative from each precinct.The gathering was presided over by Chairman Smith and addresses were made by Congress candidate Hon. E.
R. Benson, of McKean county, Legislative candidate Hon. John Scollins, of Houtzdale, Senator W. I. Betts,
and others.The Hon. Haley Betts, of DuBois,
was unable to be present and a letter
of regret at his inability to attend
was read from Mr. Betts.Following the meeting luncheon was enjoyed at The Dimeling.Pittsburgh.—Push your clock ahead Sunday instead of turning it back one hour. This was the warning of local watch and clock makers, given the public in setting their timepieces to conform to standard time, which goes into effect Sunday morning, early.
Watch doctors said time pieces become out of order by turning the hands backwards.ling over it in a mad scramble onto the track."Choice Peter" jerked himself free
of the wreckage and minus his sulky
and rider continued around the track
after the other racers. Park attendants and spectators rushed to the assistance of the fallen drivers and their horses and they were untangled
from the wreck and released from danger. Drs. Rowles, Wilson, Gordon and Quigley were quickly on the scene. They found Mr. Palmer lying unconscious on the track and had him
removed to the Clearfield hospital in the hospital ambulance, while Mr.
Chamberlain was taken to the hospital in Dr. Quigley's car.At the hospital it was found that Mr. Palmer, who is 70 years of age, with 55 years experience in the racing game, was suffering from shock
and bruises, and he regained consciousness shortly after reaching the hospital. Mr. Chamberlain had a rib broken and also suffered severe bruises. Fortunately neither man is seriously hurt. The horses also escaped practically uninjured.

Community Sing Made Hit.

The fireworks last evening and the community sing put on by Chairman
Howard Stewart of the Rotary Club
committee under the direction of Song
Leader Phil Barrow, featured last evening's entertainment at the park.
They were both fine, the singing being especially so. Both features will be repeated this evening along with the wild west program.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The big guns of the Progressive party will be unlimbered all over the country next week for a month of intensive campaigning that will extend to election
day, it was announced today at La-Follette-Wheeler headquarters.Senator LaFollette himself will take to the stump for a nation-wide swing not later than October 6. He will be followed on the road immen-sely by an army of more than 600
speakers, David K. Niles, chief of the Progressive speakers bureau declared.Having made only three speeches
since the announcement of his candidacy, LaFollette, his friends said, is anxious to begin at once his tour
from coast to coast, speaking practically every day until election.The LaFollette itinerary has virtually been completed, although final approval awaits the return of Robert
M. LaFollette, Jr., from Chicago, it calls for invasion of New England
first.If his managers wishes prevail, Lafollette will not make more than one speech a day on the trip. The Senator has told friends, however, that once on the road he wanted "to speak every day and three or four times a day, too." He also desires to leave Washington early next week, but his managers are insisting that the trip
be postponed until October.In the East LaFollette will stress labor policies, in the middle west,
farm relief and repeal of the Esch-Cummings rail law; on the Pacific Coast
his proposal granting power to Congress by a two thirds vote to override decisions of the Supreme Court.
LaFollette feels that the court issue
will strike a great appeal in the far west and all over the country, because of the four-to-three decision of the California Supreme Court denying Progressive electors a place on the state ballot. "The electors must now run under the Socialist party label."

New York, Sept. 26.—The American League race, with the Senators,
leading by a margin of two games,
today drew the attention of all fandom.After a layoff of one day, during which the National League battle was drawn closer to a decision through the New York victory over Pittsburgh, the Senators were to open today against the Boston Red Sox and the Yankees. Second place Clubs, were to engage the Athletics in Philadelphia.Both teams fighting for the American League championship were to meet clubs rated as "easy" in base ball circles, but the Athletics ever have been trouble makers and are strong enough to give any club a battle.In Boston the Senators admitted
they are meeting a club which figures
to give them less trouble than do the Athletics with New-York.Washington, leading by two games,
can get no worse than a tie now if they win two of their remaining four games, and the Yankees are victorious in four straight. The Yankees can win their fourth straight pennant
by winning four straight if Washington loses three out of four.The Giants and Dodgers are left alone at the top of the heap in the National League. Two more victories are necessary before the Giants clinch
their pennant, provided Brooklyn
wins its two remaining games.Many Italians Lose Lives

HANDLING TRAFFICThe local police department is deserving of congratulations over the manner in which they handled the traffic problem during the fair. There was but a single mishap during the week thus far and that was due solely to a gross violation of the traffic laws by a motorist coming out of the Second street bridge. This fellow came out of the bridge away over on the wrong side of the road Wednesday just as W. D. Strauss, of Mahaffey, in a Dodge bug approached the bridge from Second street. To avoid a smashup Mr. Strauss and his car was forced over against the iron fence
on the approach wall and came very near toppling over onto the N. Y. C. railroad. The fellow responsible for the wreck got away, nobody at the scene being able to get his number.Traffic arrangements worked perfectly yesterday and the ten thousand cars in the town shut in and out admitted the traffic without a single mishap. In the evening 622 cars

there are no games of thrilling importance on the schedule for tomorrow, the 1924 football season never theless will swing into its first big day of the year. There are a sufficient number of features, according to the schedules, to hold the eyes of the fans, briefly at least.Most interest probably will settle in the big ten, where several teams of major importance last year, will have action against minor opponents. The east will claim its share of attention
in the games to be played at Bucknell Columbia and Cornell. Other major eastern games are scheduled, but the changes which have been made at the three mentioned schools make them
the focus point.In the mid west, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa state of the big ten
are curved, the former against Lincoln, Indiana opposed to Rose Poly
technic, Iowa state against Nebraska Wesleyan and Wisconsin takes the gridiron against North Dakota.Considerable attention probably will be given Bucknell's opening clash
at Lewisburg with Western Maryland, inasmuch as it is at Bucknell
that Coach Charlie Moran, the man who made the Centre College Colonel's famous makes his bow, this year.Cornell, minus the great George Pfann, will be watched closely by critics, and fans at the result of its meeting with St. Bonaventure, which however, promises to be only a practice romp.Columbia meets Haverford at New York in its opening struggle.
In the South, Georgia, Tech, tackles its home rival in Oglethorpe; North

"Some of the cases involved gigantic liquor interests, because we are going after the big violators," said Mrs. Stallings. "In July we succeeded in obtaining convictions against 37 great firms, and some prominent officials of these firms are in the penitentiary."

According to Elihu Root, who has been living wisdom for three-quarters of a century, "No man can be truly happy who must depend on outside things for his happiness." Happiness comes from the inner development of your faculties. You must cultivate friendships and learn to enjoy the fine things of life that come with familiarity with nature and a love for art and literature.

A Warning.

To Relieve Canaries of Vermin.
Canary birds are often covered with vermin. They may be relieved of them by placing a clean white cloth over their cage at night. In the morning the cloth will be covered with minute red spots so small that they can hardly be seen with the naked eye. These are the parasites, a source of great annoyance to the birds.

GRAINS CLOSE HIGHER

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Grains climbed rapidly today and closed sharply higher.

Wheat finished 2-1/4 at 3 higher; corn 3 1-2 at 4 5-8 higher and oats 1 at 1 1-4 up.

Bullish foreign news and strength at Winnipeg gave wheat a strong tone throughout the session. There was good buying credited largely to houses with eastern and foreign connections and selling was largely confined to profit taking.

There was much stronger buying of corn due largely to short covering and bullish reports of government crop surveys. Prices advanced easily meeting little resistance, despite the fact that all indications point to much larger crop estimates in the next government report.

Influential commission houses were good buyers of oats and this rallied the market after hedging and liquidating sales had caused a break. Business was moderate with the character of the buying better than that of the selling.

Provisions were strong with good buying credited to expert interests.

New York, Sept. 26. (INS.—The Studebaker corporation announced here today that its net profits, after deducting taxes, would be more than $2,000,000 for the current quarter. Sales will total 18,000 automobiles. It predicted that, by virtue of expansion of facilities now accomplished, the fourth quarter would show even greater profits and more sales.

Using Watch as Compass.

Best Time for Cutting Sweet Clover for Seed

Sweet clover should be cut when three-fourths of the seed pods have turned dark brown to black. At this time some flowers and many immature pods will be found on the plants, but the field will have a brownish cast. The seeds shatter badly when mature, and for this reason every precaution must be taken to cut at the proper stage and save as much of the shattered seed as possible. Shattering will be reduced by cutting when the plants are damp from dew or rain. The seed crop is usually cut with a self-rake reaper, grain binder, grain header or corn harvester, the two former being most satisfactory. The crop should be stacked unless it is to be threshed within ten or fourteen days.

Keep a Close Watch for Stinking Smut in Wheat

During harvest, and especially at thrashing time, it is well to keep a close watch for stinking smut in wheat. Seed should be used from fields which show the least amount of smut. Badly smutted wheat, however, can be used if it is treated before being planted. This is sometimes more advisable than buying new seed or exchanging seed. The indications to date are that there is little stinking smut in South Dakota.

Ground Soy Bean Hay

Ground soy-bean hay compares almost identically with ground alfalfa hay, but has only about one-third as much protein as alfalfa or cottonseed meal, while soy-bean meal (or cake) is equally as rich in protein as either alfalfa or cottonseed meal. Several feeding experiments show conclusively that soy-bean meal or cake, that is, the residue after the oil has been removed, gives equally as good results as either alfalfa or cottonseed meal.

Alfalfa After Clover

Although a good crop of sweet clover prepares the way for alfalfa it is often hard to get a stand of alfalfa in the fall after the second year's growth has died down, due to the fact that the sweet clover uses up much of the available moisture and food supply. However, no other crop will provide inoculation for alfalfa like the sweet clover does.

Millet Sown After Rye

Millet is very often sown after rye, and the land may be prepared by double disking, followed by a harrowing, after which the millet may be seeded. Millet is not considered a good hay for horses unless it is cut fairly early, and then it should make up not over half the roughage. Mature millet hay is dangerous to feed to horses.

World's Wool Production

If the world's total annual wool production was divided equally among all the inhabitants on earth, each one of us would get one and four-fifths pounds.

Nothing Else but—

An apartment hotel on Woodward avenue advertises suites for high-class bachelors. An unmarried man of thirty-eight snorted when he read the sign. "What other kind of bachelor is there, I'd like to know?" he exclaimed. —Detroit News.

Jimmie in Danger

"Mother, come quick," called Jerry when a boy was playing roughly with her child. "They are playing so hard with Jimmie, they will hurt him and he will get all damaged."

To Polish Silver

If a quantity of silver is to be cleaned by this method: Mix sweet oil and whiting to a smooth, creamy paste. Apply with a flannel cloth. Allow it to stand until dry. Polish first with cotton flannel, then with chamois. This method will not eat or injure the silver plating.

Nothing New

"Seigniorage"

The difference between the intrinsic value of the metal in a coin and its face value is a profit made by the government. This is called seigniorage. Last year it amounted to $21,000,000.

Story of Cremation

Before the Christian era cremation was prevalent among nearly all nations. Later, burial in the ground became common. Of late years sanitation is responsible for the revival of cremation, which is gaining supporters.

Life's Never-Ending Struggle

As there is much beast with some devil in man, so is there some angel and some God in him. The beast and the devil may be conquered, but in this life never wholly destroyed. —Coleridge.

Records in Thinness

Platinum wire has been drawn so fine that 20,000 pieces side by side would not cover more than an inch, while 150 pieces bound together would form a thread as thick as a filament of raw silk.

Overlooking the Pun

It's just possible that the reason why some men have a hard job to butter their bread is because there's too much loaf.

The Balanced Ration

We hear much of the balanced ration, and it is most important when you are feeding cows and chicks. But there is very little fear that a healthy human being will fail to get an adequate amount and a proper and balanced proportion of the different kinds of food if he is given good table and a free choice. There is no poorer economy than trying to skimp on food. —Washington Post.

Joy of the Work

On the lower levels there is no adaptation; our selfish desires are at odds with nature, we are out for a good time and get no response; but the keynote of the higher level is joy—the joy of the laborer who has found his work, of the lover who has seen his object, of the hero who has received his commission. —L. P. Jacks.

Reason Aided by Education

Be sure you are right, then go ahead. Is good advice only to the man who can quickly and directly reason what is right. Good reasoning is aided by education, which parents should supply their children through support of our public schools. —Gill.

The "Parakeet"

A small bird of the parrot family now rarely if ever seen in Indiana was, half a century ago, somewhat numerous in the southern part of the state. This bird, the parakeet, or as called by the early settlers of this state, the "parakeet," is the Carolina parrot and is now scarcely known outside the swamps of Florida.

At Death's Door

"Ten years of stomach trouble reduced me to a living skeleton. I had attacks of pain that doubled me up like a jack-knife and I was as yellow as a gold piece. No medicine or doctors helped me and I was really at death's door. A lodge brother advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I found it to be the only medicine to touch my case." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Good work can only be done by people who have abolished fear; subtle thoughts come only as we put fear behind. —Albert Hubbard.

Ignore Supper Law

One of the ridiculous acts of parliament still in existence in England is that passed in the reign of Edward III, regulating the meals of the people, which forbids more than two courses being served at dinner or supper, except on certain holidays. Needless to say, the law is broken with impunity.

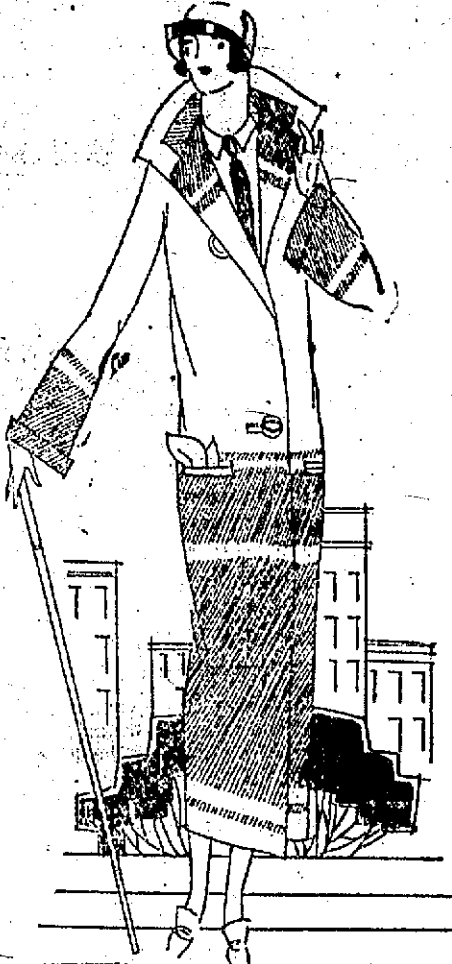

Rural Electricity

Sweden has done more to provide electric power for farms than any other nation, more than one-third of its agricultural area using current for every possible purpose.

DAWES INVADES THE BERKS COUNTY RESIDENTS HOME OF THE ENEMY AND GETS HECKLED

By ALBERT F. BANZIGER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 26.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential nominee, continued his whirlwind tour of Minnesota today, vinding up with an address at St. Cloud tonight.

In his speech here last night he again attacked Senator Robert M. La Follette and the Constitutional advocates by his progressive platform advocates.

Twice during his talk, hecklers in the crowd interrupted the address and each time Dawes demanded that they rise and state their objection. The first demand that he point out a single instance where La Follette had indicated he would destroy the Constitution, as charged.

In answer to this Dawes produced the text of the progressive platform from which he read the plank dealing with the proposed Constitutional changes.

He next was called upon to answer Senator Wheeler's charges concerning his alleged connection with the La Salle Street Bank failures.

Of this, Dawes said: "I saw a reference to what Mr. Wheeler said about President Coolidge, Mr. Davis and myself. One of the papers said it was vitriolic. Vitriol leaves a mark. It is more like sulphurated hydrogen which leaves a temporary disagreeable odor. That is all I have to say."

ANNUAL HARVEST HOME SERVICE

Sunday, Sept. 28th, the annual harvest home festival will be observed in St. John's Lutheran Church. The church will be decorated with jarred fruits and vegetables, green vegetables, grains and flowers. The jarred goods will be sent to Loysville Orphan's Home and to the local Children's Home. All who have donations to give will kindly bring or send same to church by noon Saturday, if possible. "Come ye thankful people, come! Raise the song of Harvest Home." Show your thankfulness by helping feed the orphans. At the evening hour, Rev. S. S. Shaulis, catcher of the local baseball team, will preach. His many friends who saw him play and know what he meant to the team in every way, will be glad for the opportunity to hear him preach. Come out and give him the glad hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beightol announce the birth of a son Sept. 24th, at their home on Market street.

The Test Of Character

The president of a big corporation gave this reason why his company employed salesmen on a commission basis only:

"It's the best test of character we can apply. If a man hasn't saved enough money to carry himself for a month or so he's rarely the kind who can measure up to the opportunity we offer."

Why not take a fixed amount out of your salary every pay day and put it to work in an interest bearing account at this bank? It will then enable you to grasp opportunity when it comes.

Pay yourself first—it's the sensible thing to do.

"WHAT DO YOU WANT?"

By FLORENCE DAVIES
We have asked that of someone else times without number. Now let's ask it of ourselves. But first, do we really want this thing, or do we only wish for it in a spasmodic sort of way?

The old Spanish proverb says "If you want to be a Pope you must think of nothing else."

And here we scatter our "want" thoughts so foolishly. "I want a blue dress for Geraldine's wedding," you say. "I don't know either, they're wearing yellow so much." But that can't last long. Maybe one of these lovely apricot hues would be better.

You don't want a blue dress. You want, or think you want, a dress. You may change your mind at that and conclude to wear your embroidered white crepe.

"I want to save up something to make myself safe when I'm old."

Explaining the Smell.

Betty likes to doll herself up so she makes free with her mother's toilet articles whenever she gets a chance. One evening there were several guests to dinner, and conversation that there was a strong odor of perfume in the air. Betty remarked, "I smell something, that's me."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Cliff and Cave Dwellers.

The cliff dwellers knew nothing of the use of metals. Their knives were made from the bones of the deer, highly polished and very sharp. Their household utensils consisted of pottery jars and casks made of fiber and covered with a substance resembling modern varnish. Although the earliest cliff dwellers were prehistoric, cave dwellers have existed in almost every age of the world. The ancient Hottentots derived their name from their practice of living in caverns and subterranean abodes.

Age of the Earth.

London's Breath of Country. In the crowded thoroughfares of London, traces of the country linger still in the names of a few city streets. Honeysuckle square, Milton street, is a reminder of the days when the sweet-scented flower grew in the city of London. Few other names redolent of the country still remain in London. Not far from where old Newgate prison stood are Rose street and Ivy lane, whilst perhaps the most noted to Shakespeare was the Manor of the Rose, with its mansion let at a rental of a red rose yearly at Laurence Pountney hill. Plum Tree court and Pear Tree court, Farringdon street, are also reminders of the time when the fruit grew in the city.

Uncle Eben.

"Some day," said Uncle Eben, "I may feel that it's up to me to go on one of these here hunger strikes. If it ever happens I'll have to be at the time of year when it's too late for spring chickens and too early for watermelon."

Remedy for Curl in Rugs.

The curling up of the edges of rugs is caused by the way in which they are woven. A remedy for this is to take two strips of very thin wood, each about three-inches long, and sew on the underneath part of the rug at the corners. Let these remain for about a month, when the rugs will have conformed to the floors. Or rubber corner tips may be purchased in a furniture store.

The Usual Exception.

A good motto is, "Do it now"—unless, of course, you have nothing to do.—Boston Transcript.

I Never Burn

My Skin

By Edna Wallace Hopper
I live in the sun and the wind in summer, but I never burn my skin. That is because the greatest of experts told me how to prevent it.

The sun is good for the skin—get all you can of it. Only certain rays—the ultra violet rays—do harm. Bar them out, and the sun will never burn. Tan bars those rays, so tanned skins do not burn. But science has found a way to do that without changing the skin's color. It has found a substance, harmless and colorless, which bars out only those burning rays.

By my experts' advice I had that substance embodied in my vanishing type of Youth Cream. I apply it before any exposure. After bathing I apply it again, for water removes it. I have never had sunburn, windburn, tan or freckles since my experts taught me this.

Now I am placing all my helps at every woman's call, and this one is among them. Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is supplied by all druggists, all toilet counters. The Vanishing Type contains the substance which prevents sunburn. The cost is 60c per jar, and every jar carries my guarantee that it does what my experts claim. Also in 35c tubes. I promise you it will delight you. I shall gladly mail you a trial tube if you will send this coupon. Do that and see what it does.

the farm as one of the accomplices in
the spread of the infection to swine.
The tattoo marks placed on the hogs
shipped from an area where tuberculosis is prevalent among cattle and poultry maintains the identity of the hogs even after they have gone through the scalding and scraping processes in the packing plants and makes it possible to trace any infection to its

During the period November 6, 1923,

less than one-half of 1 per cent, qualifying the county as a "modified accredited area." Of this number about one-sixth showed slight evidence of tuberculosis. The lesions were so slight, however, that it was necessary
to condemn only one carcass entirely;
five others, however, were rather seriously affected. The packers paid the premium of ten cents per hundred-weight on these hogs.Marks Show Origin.
The tattoo marks on the infected carcasses showed them to have come from 39 farms in Hillsdale county. On 22 of the farms no infection was found among the cattle. On 15 farms bovine infection had not appeared since 1921. On the remaining farms no cattle were kept. Going still further into the investigation, tuberculin tests were applied to 15 lots of chickens containing 75 head. Twelve of the 15 lots contained reactors. Tests were also applied to the swine on those farms
with the result that 17 and a fraction
per cent of swine infection was indicated. This figure checked rather closely to the percentage, 16.8 per cent, as reported through post-mortem
inspection by the inspector at the packing plant. In the absence of bovine tuberculosis on the farms where the hogs originated, the tests incriminated
tuberculous fowls as the probable source of infection.The department cautions live stock owners against needless exposure of swine to tuberculous cattle and poultry and urges the eradication of infection
in poultry by discarding of the older fowls especially and cleaning and disinfecting the premises.Fearful for the Earth.It was in the midst of a nose dive called years ago when it was told that,

The clouds in thunderstorms may be

SQUAWMAN BURIED BY LEGIONNAIRES

Sam Terry was a squawman, and when he died recently at St. Francis, S. D., American Legionnaires buried him with full military honors.

But Samuel Mark Terry, nephew of General Terry of Civil war and Indian war fame, was not the typical gun-slinging, wife-beating derelict who becomes a squawman or necessity or slothfulness, hated by both the Indian and the white man. When Terry's body was lowered into the grave at the Rosebud Indian Reservation cemetery, the intoned moan of sorrow that went up from the red men surrounding the grave betokened a different type of squawman, for these sorrowing Indians were mourning the passing of a man who had spent many years of his life in the United States army as a scout and fighter of their people.

Terry was born in New York September 3, 1850. He joined the United States army in 1868 and a gunshot wound received in the Civil war caused him to wear a silver quarter in his throat the remainder of his life.

Handicapped by his wounds, Terry went into the west country and continued in government service as a scout and Indian fighter. For many years he evaded the whizzing arrows of the Sioux, only to succumb to a more deadly arrow slung from the bow of romance.

His detachment was about to attack an Indian village in 1887 with orders to kill every man. During the fighting a figure was seen moving in the tall grass. The long musket of a scout raised slowly to rid the world of another "red varmint" when Sam Terry suddenly grasped the barrel and ordered them to wait while he investigated the moving figure in the grass.

Search revealed a beautiful Indian maiden. After the attack she followed Terry's every step as a faithful dog follows a master, and Sam Terry was her master, the gods had willed it so. Terry became a squawman and a real lover of the Indians.

Sam Terry, old timers say, was a noble character. After serving his country faithfully for twenty-three years, much of the time in the capacity of a professional enemy of the Indian, he found it in his heart to accept them as brothers, to serve them with understanding and tolerance. It was largely through the influence and efforts of Sam Terry that mutual understanding between the Indians and the Great White Father at Washington was brought about.

MISS FORKER IS OFFICIAL SOLOIST

Alma Forker, of Bakersfield, Cal., veteran of the Chemical Warfare service of the United States army, descendant of Spanish Conquistadores and of Morgans of American Revolutionary fame and of the noted Lees of Virginia, will sing at the sixth annual convention of the American Legion in St. Paul, Minn., on September 15 to 19. She has just been selected by National Commander John R. Quinn from a list of forty applicants as convention soloist.

Sixty thousand veterans, it is estimated, will hear the California songbird, who, while war was on, thought that it was the duty of a young and able-bodied American woman to do more than sing for the boys in France and so enlisted in the Chemical Warfare branch of Uncle Sam's army. Miss Forker found time from her military duties to sing for the soldiers, too. She became a familiar figure at camp and canteen.

Born in California, Miss Forker has an established reputation as a church and concert singer in her native state and also in New York city. Beginning her musical education with the study of the piano and becoming later an accomplished violinist, she went to

Alma Forker.

New York to cultivate her natural vocal ability. While there, she filled numerous engagements in and about the metropolis. Returning to California, she has been teaching voice and filling concert engagements throughout the state.

The convention soloist is the only woman member of Frank S. Reynolds post of the Legion at Bakersfield. She is also president of the newly organized Bakersfield unit of the Legion Auxiliary.

Big Time Planned for Members of "40 and 8"

Snow and full of pep will be the program which awaits the 25,000 members of La Societe des Quarante Hommes et Huit Chevaux, practically every one of whom is expected to attend the national convention held in connection with the American Legion at St. Paul, from September 15 to 19. The social society will live up to its reputation as the playground of the Legion, it is said.

Entertainment affairs will culminate in the party and lighters on Thursday. That afternoon will witness the election of national officers and in the evening will be staged the great promenade at the Minnesota state fair grounds, where some 200 men will be initiated.

Proceedings will be continued in true party and light fashion by 13 Honorable Chevaux bands. They will take part in the great convention parade Tuesday afternoon and will play the party and lighters on their way to the depot to entrain for the doings at the fair grounds.

Sessions will be held at Junior Pioneer hall in the afternoon, so as not to interfere with the sessions of the Legion convention proper, it was announced.

Open hours will be the order of the day at all St. Paul clubs and social organizations for the annual convention of the American Legion. It has been announced. Special arrangements for housing, parties, athletic and aquatic sports and other courtesy privileges have been made by the Y. M. C. A. and the K. of C. for the boys they served in 1917 and 1918.

Shoppers, in addition to extending the facilities of their building, will conduct a series of automobile tours to points of historic, scenic and industrial interest in and about St. Paul for the various days of the convention. Distinguished guests and officials of the Legion will be housed at the Athletic and Minnesota clubs, where St. Paul people will be given a chance to meet them. At the Elks' club, the White Bear Yacht club, the Auto club and other civic organizations every effort will be made for the entertainment of the convention crowds.

Want 1925 Convention

Several invitations have been extended to the American Legion for its 1925 annual convention. Louisville, Ky., is seeking the convention with the support of the state department. Newark, N. J., is also after the honor of entertaining the Legionnaires. San Francisco, Cal., has extended an invitation for 1925, offering the use of its $2,000,000 Exposition Auditorium. San Francisco is the second city in which a national convention of the Legion has been held, to extend a pressing invitation to the veterans to return.

Origin of "Bungalow"

"Bungalow" comes from "bonglaw," meaning a Bengalese or built in the style of the Bengali, an East Indian word.

Drums of Skulls Used by Tibetans

Drums, made out of the tops of skulls, over which is stretched human skin, are used to make "music" in various parts of Tibet. But skulls are not the only portion of their ancestors from which these fascinating people extract melody and rhythm. Many an intriguing tune is played on a native trumpet formed from a human thigh-bone drilled and holed and adapted to the production of sweet sound.

Effect of Vines on Walls

Stone and brick buildings are not injured by clinging vines. These may keep the building cool somewhat later in the spring, but are otherwise harmless. On wooden buildings damage may be done, since many vines which climb by twining force their way through any joint which is not perfect and then by continued growth force the woodwork apart.

Chances of Longevity

Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, diagnostician and author, says, "The average person does not stand the best chance of living long. The man or woman who weighs 20 or 30 per cent below the average has the best chance for long life. It is safe to say the average individual reaches the ideal build at thirty. If he can keep near that build for the rest of his life, he increases his chances of longevity."

Queen of Hearts

The name, Queen of Hearts, was given to the low countries to Elizabeth, daughter of James I and the unfortunate queen of Bohemia. When her fortune was at the lowest ebb she never lost her dignity of spirit, and poverty and distress only rendered her the more an object of admiration.

Patents have been taken out at various times for paper which is claimed to be proof against fire, and therefore particularly suitable for documentary records. Most of these contain asbestos or a similar mineral fiber, with or without the addition of clays or metallic salts.

Ancient Egyptians Lived Well

The ancient Egyptians had many luxuries, with gardens, orchards, fish ponds and game preserves. They were acquainted with the benefits of the rotation of crops, and their poultry extensively, practicing artificial hatching as early as 4000 B. C. or 6,451 years ago. Irrigation became an object of national importance to the Egyptians.

Figures Show Country's Growth

A single New York city bank of today carries deposits equalling more than twenty-one times the total deposits in all the city's banks in 1847. The deposits in New York banks in the year 1847 totaled $28,000,000. These banks carried $11,000,000 of specie and had a circulation of about $7,000,000.

Sun's Rays Generate Power

The sun's rays are used to generate the power in a miniature engine recently demonstrated successfully in New York. A parabolic copper mirror focused the rays on a test tube full of water, making sufficient steam to work the engine.

First Recorded Auto "Smash"

The first automobile "smash" on record occurred in 1896, when Jonathan West of Rochester, N. Y., riding in a car, collided with a wagon owned by a laundry company.

Let Kellogg's Bran free your children from that dangerous disease—constipation

Children are subject to constipation. In the excitement of play, they neglect themselves and foster this dread disease. More than forty other diseases can be traced to constipation. Don't delay. Begin at once to cleanse their systems of the dangerous poisons.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps the intestine clean—and purifies it. It drives out the poisons which undermine your children's health. It makes the bowels function regularly and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring results if eaten regularly, or your grocer will return your money. It is guaranteed because it is ALL bran! Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors everywhere—they know from experience that it brings results.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. They will like its wonderful, nut-like flavor—so different from common bran which are most unpalatable.

As a cereal, with milk or cream, they will enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in delicious muffins, bread, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

But start them eating Kellogg's Bran to-day. Start every member of your family eating it. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Ask for it at your restaurant. It is sold by all grocers.

Presents Relic of War to Alliance (Ohio) Post

As a relic of the stirring war days, R. A. Lamont, of Alliance, Ohio, recently presented the American Legion of Alliance with a big gas shell. And thereby hangs a tale.

During the early stages of America's part in the World War, shell manufacturers experienced some difficulty in filling gas shells with a liquid that would produce the required results without corroding inside the shell, and losing part of its "authority." Lamont perfected a formula for a varnish to coat the inside of the shell that protected the steel lining and kept the gas compound at its maximum strength for Heine's benefit. This formula was presented to government experts, pronounced practical and was used there in America's gas shells. The gas shell presented to the Alliance Legionnaires is Lamont's test shell that the government accepted as "bookish" and it will be used as a flag in the new Legion quarters, recently dedicated.

Lamont won recognition during the war, too, for a special treatment used on the grizzled and metal parts of the gas shells to prevent the intense cold from causing the soldiers' fingers to freeze to the guns.

Utah Department Wants Government Insurance

The American Legion, department of Utah, in convention at Spanish Fork, recently adopted resolutions to the effect that government insurance be required and be carried on according to approved commercial methods; that it be made into the relation between the head of the insurance department and the U. S. Veterans' bureau; that government insurance representatives in each state be appointed and that, if present laws permit, government insurance laws should be amended to permit the veteran, by paying one month's back premium, to receive the advance premium, to make that portion of his insurance which he is not drawing disability pension.

Sure Are Conspicuous if Not Legion Members

"If you don't belong to the Legion in St. Pierce, you're conspicuous as a result of the rather startling but none the less truthful slogan that Ft. Pierce (Fla.) American Legionnaires have adopted, and for good reasons. There are just 258 white ex-service persons of the World War in Ft. Pierce and vicinity. Ft. Pierce post has enrolled every single one of the 258 available. Forty-four members were enrolled in a recent membership contest. The record of Ft. Pierce post as regards membership has not been equaled by any veteran unit in the country. The Florida department has made a remarkable membership record this year as was indicated recently when they won the Hankford MacNider trophy for greatest increase of membership over the 1923 enrollment. Florida department is unique, too, in that there is not a post in bad standing in the entire department.

Stormy Seas

The morning felicitations were well under way. "I wish you'd take your spoon out of your coffee cup," she said. "Why should you care?" the surly brute demanded. "I merely wanted you to have plenty of room when you dip in your toast, dear!" she suggested sweetly. —American Legion Weekly.

If Interruptions Come.

So long as there is work to do there will be interruptions, breaks in its progress. And it is a part of one's character, growth, to bear these timely or untimely interruptions without any break in good temper or courtesy.

English Woman's Fool Fad.

Toys to play with, and a special little house for each dog, are included in the luxuries given to her Pekinese dogs by one London society woman, who believes in bringing up her pets to act like children.

Col. Cephas C. Bateman Becomes Legion Member

The San Diego (Cal.) post of the American Legion is proud of the distinction that has recently come to it in the enrollment as a member of Col. Cephas C. Bateman, chaplain U. S. A., retired, and the oldest member in point of unbroken service as chaplain in the United States army.

Colonel Bateman was born in Michigan in 1857, came to the Pacific coast in 1871 and was educated and ordained as a clergyman in California. He was appointed chaplain in the regular army by President McKinley, and served with the rank of captain, and was made a delegate to the World's Congress of Religions at the Columbian exposition in 1893. He served with Shafter at Santiago in 1898. He also served twice in the Philippines, more than a year, with troops in expeditions directed against the Moros. At the outbreak of the World War, Chaplain Bateman was active in the united war work drive and was later organizer and first director of the chaplain's school of the army now situated at Fort Leavenworth, retiring in 1921 on account of age.

After a lifetime of travel in service to his God, country and flag, Colonel Bateman has selected San Diego as his home and the American Legion, is proud of him and his splendid record, a loyal, active Legionnaire. Colonel Bateman has taken a keen interest in the work of the local post and finds himself thoroughly in sympathy with the aims and objects of the ex-service men.

Will Hold Big Celebration

Twenty-two posts of the American Legion in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, will unite on November 11 in a gigantic celebration of Armistice day. On the afternoon of Armistice day the Legionnaires of the county will gather at Public Square park, where they will be addressed by two men prominent in the affairs of the nation, one of whom will be Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. The second speaker has not been named.

About Hobbies.
Every hobbyist has his hobby above all others and there is something to be said for each one. Collecting of eggs, part of objects from shells, insects, etc. Students of every subject from snails to stars, find special mental reasons for interest in their particular line. And the reasons for preference would make a very remarkable collection of wordy arguments.

Owl Stopped Wheels of Industry.
The curious combination of an owl and a steel trap in which the bird had become caught and down away, from all, rattling on a high-powered electric cable carrying 11,000 volts of electricity to run a mill at Cochrane, Conn., stopped the power and threw several hundred men out of work for several hours. The men, after several hours' search, located the owl burned to a cinder.

Meaning Clear.
Richard had been ill, and although better now, was still in bed and required constant nursing. He called to his mother, but she happened to be busy and could not come, when upon the lad began to sob as if his heart would break, wailing over and over again, "Nobody loves me but myself, nobody loves me but myself."

Jealous Spaniards Hid Wives.
The so-called Venetian blinds first came to Venice from Spain, where they were called "jealousies." The jealous Spaniard hid his wife in seclusion. She was not allowed to draw up her blinds, but she might peep out through the slits, between the blinds.

Confidence Wins.
There is nothing that is more effective in promoting your mental elements to do better work and more work than the positive conviction that you can, the deep interior feeling that you can.—Larson.

Has Only Imagination.
The imagination is the only power I have that is creative. It is the only artist within me that is not a slave to its clay. My will power is weak, my memory is largely automatic, and my desires work right along without asking my permission.—Frank Crane.

Tip From the West.
"The wise husband," says the Pawhuska Journal, "reserves the place in his twelve greatest women list for use in the immediate family."—Boston Evening Transcript.

How French Got Nickname.
The nickname "frogs" was first applied to the people of Paris by the courtiers. The streets of the city were so quaggy that the inhabitants were nicknamed "Jean-Crapaud" (John Frog); while the city was known as "Lurella" or "Midland."

She Was Interested.
A child who recently moved into the neighborhood became so interested in a young woman that daily she would wait for her to pass the house. One day she walked right in the woman's way and smiling said, "Whose man are you?"

For the Oilcloth.
Oilcloth should be washed with warm water, to which a little starch (made with boiling water) has been added. Soap should on no account be used.

Measuring Corn in Crib.

To figure the number of bushels of corn in a crib multiply the length of the crib by the width by the height by four-tenths if corn is of good quality after several months in crib or by four-tenths if corn is new or of inferior quality. If the corn carries the shock, multiply length by width by height and divide by three. If the width or length of the crib is different at the top and bottom of the pile of corn, use the average.

Some Idea of a Garden.

Letter from a "moderately sensible" man to a seed merchant: "Dear Sir—Having one-quarter acre of ground not used for anything but growing stores, I wish to make it into a profitable and attractive garden. Please send me one dozen strawberry seeds; one bee, with hive complete; one dozen plum seeds; ten square yards of grass; one concrete path, winding; six fall flowers, with six pieces of wall; one safety lawn mower, with patent apparatus for converting it into a safety razor. And please send enough baskets to hold the strawberry and plum crops, and side and back combs for the honey. The grass should be green—not the withered kind I see in so many gardens—and the seeds of a flavor unsuitable for chickens. Yours truly, A. R. Qal."

Englishman's Afternoon Tea.

Writes an Englishwoman: "The Frenchman dines with mellowness and joy in living. The American thrills by doing something differently. The German expands under the influence of opera with ham sandwiches. The English love of formalism makes tea a regular institution, and then proceeds about it, except its everyday existence. Nor does this apply to a particular class. The cottage tea with its big loaf and its thick black liquor, is just as much of an institution as the cathedral tea, with its delicate blend from China and its bread and butter. There is the same warm and generous feeling about it as in the crispness of the falling tea and the pungent smell of its burning and the glow of its flames against the blue mist of the darkening afternoon."

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent—Berlin, Sept. 26.—Germany's greatest dirigible, the ZR-3, nearing the end of its farewell trip over the Fatherland before its delivery to America in part payment of the penalties imposed by the Versailles treaty, reached Berlin shortly before 10 o'clock today. A frenzy of enthusiasm greeted the giant sky cruiser.

The ZR-3 followed the historic street under the Linden, described a circle above the imperial castle, headed toward Staaken and returned to describe a giant circle around the whole city. The big ship came so low in its flight over the city that windows shook from the vibration of its motors.

Though familiar with the Zeppelins appearance from war time experiences Berlin residents on early morning trains on motor cars and on bicycles streamed toward the air-drome at Staaken, the training site of some of the most famous pilots of the war.

From windows in business buildings, house-tops and from the boulevards the city waved and cheered while hoarse throated factory whistles greeted a welcome. Word of the ZR-3's progress over North Germany since its departure from Friedrichshafen at 9 o'clock yesterday had stirred Berlin to keen anticipation long before the arrival of the air traveler.

Steamer headlines in morning newspapers heralded the Zeppelin's triumphant arrival and scored the terms of the treaty which makes the dirigible the last German can produce. "Last German Zeppelin's Triumphant Flight" one headline read. The text followed pointed out to all Germany the proud achievement of the ZR-3's crew. The farewell flight was discussed as a national affair. The Allies were bitterly assailed, in editorial comment, for depriving Germany of chances for further progress in aircraft construction. Under the Versailles treaty the Zeppelin plant, which produced the ZR-3 will be torn down after the dirigible makes its departure for America probably the latter part of next week.

Radio reports received from the air cruiser told of its arrival at Stettin at dawn after a successful night cruise over the Baltic sea, flying a course along the coast toward Koenigsberg. The motors toward the test perfectly. The American commission abroad, including Capt. George W. Steele, Commander Sidney M. Krause and Lieut. Earl Schmidt of the United States navy and Major Harold Geiger, of the United States army, expressed great satisfaction with the ship's showing.

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.) (Copyright, 1924, International News Service.) Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 25.—A presidential campaign via dirigible in 1923, forest fires smothered by carbonic acid gas bombs hurled from the air and defense of America's coastline against the wily rum runner by air cruisers, even larger than the monster ZR-3, were forecast in a look into the future of aviation today by Ernest A. Lehmann, vice president of the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation of Akron, Ohio.

The veteran dirigible pilot, hero of some of the most daring escapades of wartime flying, made these predictions in exclusive interview with International News Service in the huge hangar of the ZR-3 as he supervised the finishing touches for the farewell trial trip of the huge cloud ship.

EXPRESS RUNS WILD
FROM BELLWOOD TO
EAST ALTOONA YARD

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 26. (INS.)—Express train No. 95 on the Pennsylvania railroad had a wild ride from Bellwood west to East Altoona today when part of its engine's smokestack came down enveloping the engine cab in smoke, steam and fire, and forcing Engineer J. E. Arndt, 53, and Fireman V. C. Ayres back on the tender. The fire died down just before the train reached East Altoona, where Ayres, suffering from serious burns on the face and shoulders crawled into the cab and stopped it.

TRAINMAN LOSES HIS LIFE ON THE SPECIAL
CARRYING COOLIDGE

Washington, Sept. 26 (INS.)—The President and Mrs. Coolidge returned to the White House from Philadelphia early this morning, unaware that their special train killed a man on the return journey.

The man was M. D. Plaine, a brakeman, who had climbed atop the tender. As the train went under a bridge on the outskirts of Baltimore he was struck and thrown from the train, dying almost instantly.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Johnson and daughter Cecil, of Bellefonte, are visiting relatives in town and attending the fair.

cruiser before she casts off for America, probably by the end of next week. Swings around the circle will be made in the next presidential campaign aboard airships of the ZR-3 type, Lehmann predicted. All imaginable conveniences would be provided the candidates as they rested, free from the cinders and jolts of train travel, while their air cruisers journeyed to cities where speeches would be made from the gondolas of the airships.

"I also foresee the time when airships even bigger than the ZR-3 will be used by the United States Government for the protection of its coasts against rum runners," Lehmann continued. "Their giant searchlights would make landing of contraband practically impossible.

"Dirigibles will be used in forest patrol, preventing and extinguishing fires which have been costing your northwest millions of dollars every year. They will drop bombs containing carbonic acid gas, quickly smothering the flames."

Lehmann, who has never lost a ship, although he undertook some of the longest and most perilous of the war flights, will be one of the two pilots of the ZR-3 in its trans-Atlantic trip to America under the command of Dr. Eckner. He is "the real father of long distance lighter-than-air flights," having made the first cruise of more than four days in a fighting Zeppelin. Up to that time aeronautical authorities had contended that neither crew nor motors could stand a trip of more than two days. On this trip, Lehmann piloted a dirigible over the Baltic Sea, remaining in the air 101 hours, or 30 hours longer than the ZR-3 is expected to need for its journey to America.

Lehmann's most famous exploit was the shelling of Calais from an airship 5,000 feet above the city. A basket was suspended 2,000 feet beneath the ship, from which an observer telephoned his commander the results of the bombardment.

The new dirigible industry at Akron will be under the direction of Lehmann, who has spent six months in the Ohio city acquiring a fluent knowledge of English. He will take with him a dozen of the best German experts on airship construction, including Dr. Arnstein, known as "the scientific brains of modern airship design."

PROGRAM TONIGHT

The "big day" of the big fair is now history and the management of the Clearfield Co. Fair were privileged to entertain yesterday more than 35,000 people, who found much enjoyment throughout the big enclosure during the afternoon and evening.

The crowds during the day and evening were, without a doubt the largest ever assembled on the Clearfield fair grounds and in itself denotes the interest being taken throughout this section of the State in the big Clearfield county fair, the one county fair in Pennsylvania which gives the patrons even more than they advertise.

Every nook and corner about the big fair grounds was crowded yesterday, the big new grandstand coming into its own for the first time. Our people, who have been educated to stand along the fence and watch the track events were a little slow to take advantage at the start of the hand-some accommodations provided for them in the new stand but Thursday's crowd broke the ice and almost every seat in the big stand was taken at both the afternoon and evening entertainments.

The great number and variety of the farm exhibits was most favorably commented upon by the thousands who crowded the section of the park devoted to this exhibit, while the poultry exhibit was crowded by interested visitors from morning until night.

Game Keeper Reareck and his State Game Commission zoo vied with the poultry exhibit thousands of the fair visitors making special visits to Reareck and his woodland scene. They remained to marvel at the beauty and number of the specimens of game birds and animals gathered there and that such a mild manner "old fellow" as Reareck could be so "wild" as his surroundings denoted him to be. Mr. Reareck gave a number of trapping demonstrations during the day and imparted a wealth of woods lore to his auditors during the day. He was glad to cry quits when darkness came.

The big exhibition building never presented a more interesting appearance, each firm represented appearing to attempt to outdo his competitor and all previous efforts. So dense was the crowd here all day and evening that not one fourth of those who desired could possibly squeeze into the hall.

The track show was again a winner, King Bros. wild west being styled one of the best free shows ever given on any fair in this section of the State. The races were thoroughly in keeping with the general schedule of things throughout the park and were great. Every heat was a race and never, on the local track, were a bunch of horses more evenly matched from the head to the foot of the list, and never were races more hotly contested, while Judge B. F. Yates, of Circleville, Ohio, was a perfect judge and starter.

The spectators were given a real thrill in the third heat of the 2:17 pace. There were seven entries and the horses were speeding down the back stretch, pretty well bunched, on the first round of the half mile track of the heat. A. M. Chamberlain, of Lewisburg, driving 'Herman Stokes', who won the first heat of the race, was leading. Geo. F. Palmer, of Savannah, Geo., with "Choice Peter", was close behind and "Mamie Metzger" and "Bill Pointer" in third and fourth positions. Chamberlain's right line broke and being thrown off his stride by the accident and pulled toward the edge of the track by the left line "Herman Stokes," a remarkably sure-footed horse, went down with the other three horses named running into the wreckage and tum-

Democratic Committee
Of County Luncheon And
Revises Some Rules.

A meeting of the Democratic County Committee was held in the ball room at the Hotel Dimeling yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, pursuant to the call of County Chairman W. Wallace Smith, Esq. Very nearly every election district in the county was represented and County Chairman Smith says most encouraging reports were had from almost every district.

Some minor changes were made in the party rules one of which provides for the election of a female representative from each precinct.

The gathering was presided over by Chairman Smith and addresses were made by Congress candidate Hon. E. R. Benson, of McKean county, Legislative candidate Hon. John Scollins, of Houtzdale, Senator W. I. Betts, and others.

The Hon. Haley Betts, of DuBois, was unable to be present and a letter of regret at his inability to attend was read from Mr. Betts.

Following the meeting luncheon was enjoyed at The Dimeling.

Pittsburgh.—Push your clock ahead Sunday instead of turning it back one hour. This was the warning of local watch and clock makers, given the public in setting their timepieces to conform to standard time, which goes into effect Sunday morning, early, watch doctors said, time pieces should come out of order by turning the hands backwards.

ling over it in a mad scramble onto the track.

"Choice Peter" jerked himself free of the wreckage and minus his sulky and rider continued around the track after the other racers. Park attendants and spectators rushed to the assistance of the fallen drivers and their horses and they were untangled from the wreck and released from danger. Drs. Rowles, Wilson, Gordon and Quigley were quickly on the scene. They found Mr. Palmer lying unconscious on the track and had him removed to the Clearfield hospital in the hospital ambulance, while Mr. Chamberlain was taken to the hospital in Dr. Quigley's car.

At the hospital it was found that Mr. Palmer, who is 70 years of age, with 55 years experience in the racing game, was suffering from shock and bruises, and he regained consciousness shortly after reaching the hospital. Mr. Chamberlain had a rib broken and also suffered severe bruises. Fortunately neither man is seriously hurt. The horses also escaped practically uninjured.

Community Sing Made Hit.

The fireworks last evening and the community sing put on by Chairman Howard Stewart of the Rotary Club committee under the direction of Song Leader Phil Barrow, featured last evening's entertainment at the park. They were both fine, the singing being especially so. Both features will be repeated this evening along with the wild west program.

UGLY SHOT AT THE
KENDRICK REGIME

Philadelphia, Sept. 26 (INS.)—Governor Gifford Pinchot entered the Butler-Kendrick row with a rush today when he trained his guns on "the gang that has long polluted Philadelphia" in declining the invitation to preside at the "town-meeting" Monday night.

His presence at the meeting, his telegram stated, would be "neither proper nor possible" but it continued "Butler has well begun a magnificent job in law enforcement and in cleaning up the gang that long polluted Philadelphia."

Butler's dismissal, he said, "would be a slap in the face of every decent man and woman in the whole commonwealth."

MONTH OF VIGOROUS
ACTIVITY IS PLANNED
BY LA FOLLETTE MEN

By KENNETH CLARK

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent, Washington, Sept. 26.—The big guns of the Progressive party will be unlimbered all over the country next week for a month of intensive campaigning that will extend to election day, it was announced today at LaFollette-Wheeler headquarters.

Senator LaFollette himself will take to the stump for a nation-wide swing not later than October 6. He will be followed on the road immediately by an army of more than 600 speakers, David K. Niles, chief of the Progressive speakers bureau declared.

Having made only three speeches since the announcement of his candidacy, LaFollette, his friends said, is anxious to begin at once his tour from coast to coast, speaking practically every day until election.

The LaFollette itinerary has virtually been completed, although final approval awaits the return of Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., from Chicago, it calls for invasion of New England first.

If his managers wishes prevail, LaFollette will not make more than one speech a day on the trip. The Senator has told friends, however, that once on the road he wanted "to speak every day and three or four times a day, too." He also desires to leave Washington early next week, but his managers are insisting that the trip be postponed until October.

In the East LaFollette will stress labor policies, in the middle west, farm relief and repeal of the Esch-Cummings rail law; on the Pacific Coast his proposal granting power to Congress by a two thirds vote to override decisions of the Supreme Court. LaFollette feels that the court issue will strike a great appeal in the far west and all over the country, because of the four-to-three decision of the California Supreme Court denying Progressive electors a place on the state ballot. "The electors must now run under the Socialist party label."

FLEGAL—HOLA ...

Lester Flegal of Clearfield and Marie Lomison Holt also of Clearfield, surprised their many friends by slipping down to the 11th Street Parsonage Tuesday evening, Sept. 25 and were united in marriage by their pastor Rev. C. K. Gibson. The beautiful ring ceremony of the church was used. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Reese. The bride has been a valued employee of the Clearfield Textile Co. for the past five years. While the groom is located with the Barrett Refractories. They will make their home in Clearfield.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NOW FURNISHES
BASEBALL THRILLS

By H. C. HAMILTON

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent New York, Sept. 26.—The American League race, with the Senators, leading by a margin of two games, today drew the attention of all fans.

After a layoff of one day, during which the National League battle was drawn closer to a decision through the New York victory over Pittsburgh, the Senators were to open today against the Boston Red Sox and the Yankees. Second place Clubs, were to engage the Athletics in Philadelphia.

Both teams fighting for the American League championship were to meet clubs rated as "easy" in baseball circles, but the Athletics ever have been trouble makers and are strong enough to give any club a battle.

In Boston the Senators admitted they are meeting a club which figures to give them less trouble than do the Athletics with New York.

Washington, leading by two games, can get no worse than a tie now if they win two of their remaining four games, and the Yankees are victorious in four straight. The Yankees can win their fourth straight pennant by winning four straight if Washington loses three out of four.

The Giants and Dodgers are left alone at the top of the heap in the National League. Two more victories are necessary before the Giants clinch their pennant, provided Brooklyn wins its two remaining games.

Many Italians Lose Lives
In Terrific Gales In The Northern Part Of Italy

London, Sept. 26 (INS.)—Many persons have been killed and heavy damages done by gales that swept Northern Italy, according to a Central news dispatch from Naples today. High winds were accompanied by torrential rainfall.

Eight were reported killed at Pallanza by falling timbers or drowning. Fruit crops were ruined in some districts. Many persons were injured.

The minister of labor is visiting the stricken zones.

SMOKY CITY VISITORS HERE

Joe Carter and Joe White, a couple of Pittsburgh friends of ex-Deputy U. S. Marshal Ira McCloskey, are guests of Sheriff McCloskey this week while attending the fair.

They managed to get along through the crowds pretty well but had sort of a hard time adjusting their going and coming to the local schedule. When on their native heaths the two Joe's were generally just getting into action about the time frugal and careful Clearfielders are locking their chicken pens for the night, but are then good for an all night session, as we understand such things up here. They have their morning paper served with their noonday lunch but even at that appear to be getting a lot of fun out of their visit to the all and uncut.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26 (INS.)—A great calm pervaded city hall today. It was the calm, however, that precedes the storm, the full force of which is expected to break next Monday when General Smedley D. Butler returns to find out from Mayor Kendrick his fate as Director of Public Safety here.

POLICE DESERVE
COMMENDATION ON HANDLING TRAFFIC

The local police department is deserving of congratulations over the manner in which they handled the traffic problem during the fair. There was but a single mishap during the week thus far and that was due solely to a gross violation of the traffic laws by a motorist coming out of the Second street bridge. This fellow came out of the bridge away over on the wrong side of the road Wednesday just as W. D. Strauss, of Mahanoy, in a Dodge bug approached the bridge from Second street. To avoid a smashup Mr. Strauss and his car was forced over against the iron fence on the approach wall and came very near toppling over onto the N. Y. C. railroad. The fellow responsible for the wreck got away, nobody at the scene being able to get his number.

Traffic arrangements worked perfectly yesterday and the ten thousand cars in the town shut in and out amidst the traffic without a single mishap. In the evening 622 cars crossed the intersection at Nichols street and down Turnpike avenue in less than forty minutes, while a number also came out of Turnpike and down Nichols.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL
STRUGGLE BEGINS
TOMORROW WITH ALL RARIN' TO GO

New York, Sept. 26 (INS.)—While there are no games of thrilling importance on the schedule for tomorrow, the 1924 football season nevertheless will swing into its first big day of the year. There are a sufficient number of features, according to the schedules, to hold the eyes of the fans, briefly at least.

Most interest probably will settle in the big ten, where several teams of major importance last year, will have action against minor opponents. The east will claim its share of attention in the games to be played at Bucknell, Columbia and Cornell. Other major eastern games are scheduled, but the changes which have been made at the three mentioned schools make them the focus point.

In the mid west, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa state of the big ten are curved, the former against Lincoln, Indiana opposed to Rose Polytechnic, Iowa state against Nebraska Wesleyan and Wisconsin takes the gridiron against North Dakota.

Considerable attention probably will be given Bucknell's opening clash at Lewisburg with Western Maryland, inasmuch as it is at Bucknell that Coach Charlie Moran, the man who made the Centre College Colonels famous makes his bow, this year.

Cornell, minus the great George Pfann, will be watched closely by critics, and fans at the result of its meeting with St. Bonaventure, which however, promises to be only a practice romp.

Columbia meets Haverford at New York in its opening struggle. In the South, Georgia, Tech, tackles its home rival in Oglethorpe; North Carolina state meets Trinity at Raleigh, and Auburn journeys to Birmingham for its annual battle with Birmingham-Southern.

California furnishes the only games of importance in the far west, the State University tackling Santa Clara at Berkeley. Southern California meets California Tech at Los Angeles.

versy during his visit here last night to speak at the celebrations of the Carpenters' Company, both sides now seem willing that an armed truce prevail until the General's return. As a consequence no more verbal broadsides are expected to be hurled either by the Mayor or his fighting cabinet officer until the Mayor starts his final offensive which will probably end in a demand for the General's immediate resignation.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

According to statistics issued by the State Department, the townships of Clearfield county have a high tax levy, ranking seventh in this respect of the state. The average tax levy in Clearfield county townships is 13.70, which a total of $180,184 is collected. The assessed valuation on which the levy was made is $12,701,419.40.

Mrs. Agnes B. Stallings, chief of the beer and wine section of the national prohibition enforcement department, who is in Philadelphia to assist in obtaining the conviction of law violators, told the Methodist preachers' meeting in Simpson Hall Monday, Sept. 22, that the department obtained 11,000 convictions last year.

"Some of the cases involved gigantic liquor interests, because we are going after the big violators," said Mrs. Stallings. "In July we succeeded in obtaining convictions against 37 great firms, and some prominent officials of these firms are in the penitentiary."

The Miller Construction Company which is building a stretch of state road near Paxsonstown claims to have beaten all previous records in this state on Wednesday last when they mixed and poured 1105 feet of 16 foot roadway.

According to Elihu Root, who has been living wisdom for three-quarters of a century, "No man can be truly happy who must depend on outside things for his happiness." Happiness comes from the inner development of your faculties. You must cultivate friendships and learn to enjoy the fine things of life that come with familiarity with nature and a love for art and literature.

Canary birds are often covered with vermin. They may be relieved of them by placing a clean white cloth over their cage at night. GRAINS CLOSE HIGHER

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Grains climbed rapidly today and closed sharply higher.

Wheat finished 2-1/4 at 3 higher; corn 3 1-2 at 4 5-8 higher and oats 1 1-4 up.

Bullish foreign news and strength at Winnipeg gave wheat a strong tone throughout the session. There was good buying credited largely to houses with eastern and foreign connections and selling was largely confined to profit taking.

There was much stronger buying of corn due largely to short covering and bullish reports of government crop surveys. Prices advanced easily meeting little resistance, despite the fact that all indications point to much larger crop estimates in the next government report.

Influential commission houses were good buyers of oats and this rallied the market after hedging and liquidating sales had caused a break. Business was moderate with the character of the buying better than that of the selling.

Provisions were strong with good buying credited to expert interests.

Best Time for Cutting Sweet Clover for Seed

Sweet clover should be cut when three-fourths of the seed pods have turned dark brown to black. At this time some flowers and many immature pods will be found on the plants, but the field will have a brownish cast. The seeds shatter badly when mature, and for this reason every precaution must be taken to cut at the proper stage and save as much of the shattered seed as possible. Shattering will be reduced by cutting when the plants are damp from dew or rain. The seed crop is usually cut with a self-rake reaper, grain binder, grain header or corn harvester, the two former being most satisfactory. The crop should be stacked unless it is to be threshed within ten or fourteen days.

Keep a Close Watch for Stinking Smut in Wheat

During harvest, and especially at thrashing time, it is well to keep a close watch for stinking smut in wheat. Seed should be used from fields which show the least amount of smut. Badly smutted wheat, however, can be used if it is treated before being planted. This is sometimes more advisable than buying new seed or exchanging seed. The indications to date are that there is little stinking smut in South Dakota.

Ground Soy Bean Hay

Ground soy-bean hay compares almost identically with ground alfalfa hay, but has only about one-third as much protein as alfalfa or cottonseed meal, while soy-bean meal (or cake) is equally as rich in protein as either alfalfa or cottonseed meal. Several feeding experiments show conclusively that soy-bean meal or cake, that is, the residue after the oil has been removed, gives equally as good results as either alfalfa or cottonseed meal.

Alfalfa After Clover

Although a good crop of sweet clover prepares the way for alfalfa it is often hard to get a stand of alfalfa in the fall after the second year's growth has died down, due to the fact that the sweet clover uses up much of the available moisture and food supply. However, no other crop will provide inoculation for alfalfa like the sweet clover does.

Millet Sown After Rye

Millet is very often sown after rye, and the land may be prepared by double disking, followed by a harrowing, after which the millet may be seeded. Millet is not considered a good hay for horses unless it is cut fairly early, and then it should make up not over half the roughage. Mature millet hay is dangerous to feed to horses.

To Polish Silver

If a quantity of silver is to be cleaned by this method: Mix sweet oil and whiting to a smooth, creamy paste. Apply with a flannel cloth. Allow it to stand until dry. Polish first with cotton flannel, then with chamois. This method will not eat or injure the silver plating.

Luxurious "Tubbing"

It's just possible that the reason why some men have a hard job to butter their bread is because there's too much loaf.

The Balanced Ration

We hear much of the balanced ration, and it is most important when you are feeding cows and chicks. But there is very little fear that a healthy human being will fail to get an adequate amount and a proper and balanced proportion of the different kinds of food if he is given good table and a free choice. There is no poorer economy than trying to skimp on food. —Washington Post.

Joy of the Work

On the lower levels there is no adaptation; our selfish desires are at odds with nature, we are out for a good time and get no response; but the keynote of the higher level is joy—the joy of the laborer who has found his work, of the lover who has seen his object, of the hero who has received his commission. —L. P. Jacks.

Reason Aided by Education

Be sure you are right, then go ahead. Is good advice only to the man who can quickly and directly reason what is right. Good reasoning is aided by education, which parents should supply their children through support of our public schools. —Gill.

The "Parakeet"

A small bird of the parrot family now rarely if ever seen in Indiana was, half a century ago, somewhat numerous in the southern part of the state. This bird, the parakeet, or as called by the early settlers of this state, the "parakeet," is the Carolina parrot and is now scarcely known outside the swamps of Florida.

At Death's Door

"Ten years of stomach trouble reduced me to a living skeleton. I had attacks of pain that doubled me up like a jack-knife and I was as yellow as a gold piece. No medicine or doctors helped me and I was really at death's door. A lodge brother advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I found it to be the only medicine to touch my case." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Ignore Supper Law

One of the ridiculous acts of parliament still in existence in England is that passed in the reign of Edward III, regulating the meals of the people, which forbids more than two courses being served at dinner or supper, except on certain holidays. Needless to say, the law is broken with impunity.

DAWES INVADES THE BERKS COUNTY RESIDENTS HOME OF THE ENEMY AND GETS HECKLED

By ALBERT F. BANZIGER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 26.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential nominee, continued his whirlwind tour of Minnesota today, vinding up with an address at St. Cloud tonight.

In his speech here last night he again attacked Senator Robert M. La Follette and the Constitutional advocates by his progressive platform advocates.

Twice during his talk, hecklers in the crowd interrupted the address and each time Dawes demanded that they rise and state their objection. The first demand that he point out a single instance where La Follette had indicated he would destroy the Constitution as charged.

In answer to this Dawes produced the text of the progressive platform from which he read the plank dealing with the proposed Constitutional changes.

He next was called upon to answer Senator Wheeler's charges concerning his alleged connection with the La Salle Street Bank failures.

Of this, Dawes said: "I saw a reference to what Mr. Wheeler said about President Coolidge, Mr. Davis and myself. One of the papers said it was vitriolic. Vitriol leaves a mark. It is more like sulphurated hydrogen which leaves a temporary disagreeable odor. That is all I have to say."

ANNUAL HARVEST HOME SERVICE

Sunday, Sept. 28th, the annual harvest home festival will be observed in St. John's Lutheran Church. The church will be decorated with jarred fruits and vegetables, green vegetables, grains and flowers. The jarred goods will be sent to Loysville Orphan's Home and to the local Children's Home. All who have donations to give will kindly bring or send same to church by noon Saturday, if possible. "Come ye thankful people, come! Raise the song of Harvest Home." Show your thankfulness by helping feed the orphans. At the evening hour, Rev. S. S. Shaulis, catcher of the local baseball team, will preach. His many friends who saw him play and know what he meant to the team in every way, will be glad for the opportunity to hear him preach. Come out and give him the glad hand.

The president of a big corporation gave this reason why his company employed salesmen on a commission basis only:

"WHAT DO YOU WANT?"

By FLORENCE DAVIES
We have asked that of someone else times without number. Now let's ask it of ourselves. But first, do we really want this thing, or do we only wish for it in a spasmodic sort of way?

The old Spanish proverb says "If you want to be a Pope you must think of nothing else."

And here we scatter our "want" thoughts so foolishly. "I want a blue dress for Geraldine's wedding," you say. "I don't know either, they're wearing yellow so much." But that can't last long. Maybe one of these lovely apricot hues would be better.

You don't want a blue dress. You want, or think you want, a dress. You may change your mind at that and conclude to wear your embroidered white crepe.

"I want to save up something to make myself safe when I'm old."

Explaining the Smell.

Betty likes to doll herself up so she makes free with her mother's toilet articles whenever she gets a chance. One evening there were several guests to dinner, and conversation that there was a strong odor of perfume in the air. Betty remarked, "I don't smell anything, that's me."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Cliff and Cave Dwellers.

The cliff dwellers knew nothing of the use of metals. Their knives were made from the bones of the deer, highly polished and very sharp. Their household utensils consisted of pottery jars and casks made of fiber and covered with a substance resembling modern varnish. Although the earliest cliff dwellers were prehistoric, cave dwellers have existed in almost every age of the world. The ancient Hottentots derived their name from their practice of living in caverns and subterranean abodes.

London's Breath of Country. In the crowded thoroughfares of London, traces of the country linger still in the names of a few city streets. Honeysuckle square, Milton street, is a reminder of the days when the sweet-scented flower grew in the city of London. Few other names redolent of the country still remain in London. Not far from where old Newgate prison stood are Rose street and Ivy lane, whilst perhaps the most noted to Shakespeare was the Manor of the Rose, with its mansion let at a rental of a red rose yearly at Laurence Pountney hill. Plum Tree court and Pear Tree court, Farringdon street, are also reminders of the time when the fruit grew in the city.

Uncle Eben.

The curling up of the edges of rugs is caused by the way in which they are woven. A remedy for this is to take two strips of very thin wood, each about three-inches long, and sew on the underneath part of the rug at the corners. Let these remain for about a month, when the rugs will have conformed to the floors. Or rubber corner tips may be purchased in a furniture store.

I Never Burn

My Skin

By Edna Wallace Hopper
I live in the sun and the wind in summer, but I never burn my skin. That is because the greatest of experts told me how to prevent it.

The sun is good for the skin—get all you can of it. Only certain rays—the ultra violet rays—do harm. Bar them out, and the sun will never burn. Tan bars those rays, so tanned skins do not burn. But science has found a way to do that without changing the skin's color. It has found a substance, harmless and colorless, which bars out only those burning rays.

By my experts' advice I had that substance embodied in my vanishing type of Youth Cream. I apply it before any exposure. After bathing I apply it again, for water removes it. I have never had sunburn, windburn, tan or freckles since my experts taught me this.

Now I am placing all my helps at every woman's call, and this one is among them. Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is supplied by all druggists, all toilet counters. The Vanishing Type contains the substance which prevents sunburn. The cost is 60c per jar, and every jar carries my guarantee that it does what my experts claim. Also in 35c tubes. I promise you it will delight you. I shall gladly mail you a trial tube if you will send this coupon. Do that and see what it does.

Curwensville's
Own Column

The body of Lemoine Ferguson was brought home yesterday from Warren sanatorium, where he had been an inmate for the past three months. He was the son of Murray Ferguson, deceased, and was aged 22 years. The funeral will be held on Saturday, interment to be made at Ferguson cemetery.

John Kelly is nursing his right hand very tenderly these days. He cut it the other day while working at plumbing and blood poisoning took a slight hold of the injury.

A number of friends and neighbors dropped in on Monday evening of this week and helped Mrs. Alice Elder celebrate her birthday. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served, and all left wishing Mrs. Elder many happy returns.

Curwensville was almost deserted yesterday, everybody going to spend the day at the fair.

A new dwelling house is being built on Susquehanna avenue, near the turn of the Lumber City road.

Tuberculosis Is Traced by Marks

"Tattoo" Instrument, Devised to Expedite Eradication of Dread Disease.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The marking of hogs with a "tattoo" instrument which has been devised in the United States Department of Agriculture investigations, has in some instances incriminated the "old hen" on the farm as one of the accomplices in the spread of the infection to swine. The tattoo marks placed on the hogs shipped from an area where tuberculosis is prevalent among cattle and poultry maintains the identity of the hogs even after they have gone through the scalding and scraping processes in the packing plants and makes it possible to trace any infection to its source.

Infection Suppressed.
During the period November 6, 1923, to April 2, 1924, a total of 13,264 hogs were shipped from Hillsdale county, Mich., an area in which the infection among cattle had been suppressed to less than one-half of 1 per cent, qualifying the county as a "modified accredited area." Of this number about one-sixth showed slight evidence of tuberculosis. The lesions were so slight, however, that it was necessary to condemn only one carcass entirely; five others, however, were rather grossly affected. The packers paid the premium of ten cents per hundredweight on these hogs.

Marks Show Origin.
The tattoo marks on the infected carcasses showed them to have come from 39 farms in Hillsdale county. On 22 of the farms no infection was found among the cattle. On 15 farms bovine infection had not appeared since 1921. On the remaining farms no cattle were kept. Going still further into the investigation, tuberculin tests were applied to 15 lots of chickens containing 75 head. Twelve of the 15 lots contained reactors. Tests were also applied to the swine on those farms with the result that 17 and a fraction per cent of swine infection was indicated. This figure checked rather closely to the percentage, 16.8 per cent, as reported through post-mortem inspection by the inspector at the packing plant. In the absence of bovine tuberculosis on the farms where the hogs originated, the tests incriminated tuberculous fowls as the probable source of infection.

The department cautions live stock owners against needless exposure of swine to tuberculous cattle and poultry and urges the eradication of infection in poultry by discarding of the older fowls especially and cleaning and disinfecting the premises.

NEW LAMP BURNS
94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple and safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, S. K. Johnson, 642 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and, without experience or money, make $250 to $500 per month.

SQUAWMAN BURIED BY LEGIONNAIRES

Sam Terry was a squawman, and when he died recently at St. Francis, S. D., American Legionnaires buried him with full military honors.

But Samuel Mark Terry, nephew of General Terry of Civil war and Indian war fame, was not the typical gun-slinging, wife-beating derelict who becomes a squawman or necessity or slothfulness, hated by both the Indian and the white man. When Terry's body was lowered into the grave at the Rosebud Indian Reservation cemetery, the intoned moan of sorrow that went up from the red men surrounding the grave betokened a different type of squawman, for these sorrowing Indians were mourning the passing of a man who had spent many years of his life in the United States army as a scout and fighter of their people.

Terry was born in New York September 3, 1850. He joined the United States army in 1868 and a gunshot wound received in the Civil war caused him to wear a silver quarter in his throat the remainder of his life.

Handicapped by his wounds, Terry went into the west country and continued in government service as a scout and Indian fighter. For many years he evaded the whizzing arrows of the Sioux, only to succumb to a more deadly arrow from the bow of romance.

His detachment was about to attack an Indian village in 1887 with orders to kill every man. During the fighting a figure was seen moving in the tall grass. The long musket of a scout raised slowly to rid the world of another "red varmint" when Sam Terry suddenly grasped the barrel and ordered them to wait while he investigated the moving figure in the grass.

Search revealed a beautiful Indian maiden. After the attack she followed Terry's every step as a faithful dog follows a master, and Sam Terry was so taken by her beauty that he fell in love with her.

Terry became a squawman and a real lover of the Indians.

Sam Terry, old timers say, was a noble character. After serving his country faithfully for twenty-three years, much of the time in the capacity of a professional enemy of the Indian, he found it in his heart to accept them as brothers, to serve them with understanding and tolerance. It was largely through the influence and efforts of Sam Terry that mutual understanding between the Indians and the Great White Father at Washington was brought about.

MISS FORKER IS OFFICIAL SOLOIST

Alma Forker, of Bakersfield, Cal., veteran of the Chemical Warfare service of the United States army, descendant of Spanish Conquistadores and of Morgans of American Revolutionary fame and of the noted Lees of Virginia, will sing at the sixth annual convention of the American Legion in St. Paul, Minn., on September 15 to 19. She has just been selected by National Commander John R. Quinn from a list of forty applicants as convention soloist.

Sixty thousand veterans, it is estimated, will hear the California songbird, who, while war was on, thought that it was the duty of a young and able-bodied American woman to do more than sing for the boys in France and so enlisted in the Chemical Warfare branch of Uncle Sam's army. Miss Forker found time from her military duties to sing for the soldiers, too. She became a familiar figure at camp and canteen.

Born in California, Miss Forker has an established reputation as a church and concert singer in her native state and also in New York city. Beginning her musical education with the study of the piano and becoming later an accomplished violinist, she went to

Alma Forker.

New York to cultivate her natural vocal ability. While there, she filled numerous engagements in and about the metropolis. Returning to California, she has been teaching voice and filling concert engagements throughout the state.

The convention soloist is the only woman member of Frank S. Reynolds post of the Legion at Bakersfield. She is also president of the newly organized Bakersfield unit of the Legion Auxiliary.

Big Time Planned for Members of "40 and 8"

Snow and full of pep will be the program which awaits the 25,000 members of La Societe des Quarante Hommes et Huit Chevaux, practically every one of whom is expected to attend the national convention held in connection with the American Legion at St. Paul, from September 15 to 19. The social society will live up to its reputation as the playground of the Legion, it is said.

Entertainment affairs will culminate in the party and lighters on Thursday. That afternoon will witness the election of national officers and in the evening will be staged the great promenade at the Minnesota state fair grounds, where some 200 men will be initiated.

Proceedings will be continued in true party and light fashion by 13 Honorable Chevaux bands. They will take part in the great convention parade Tuesday afternoon and will play the party and lighters on their way to the depot to entrain for the doings at the fair grounds.

Sessions will be held at Junior Pioneer hall in the afternoon, so as not to interfere with the sessions of the Legion convention proper, it was announced.

Open hours will be the order of the day at all St. Paul clubs and social organizations for the annual convention of the American Legion. It has been announced. Special arrangements for housing, parties, athletic and aquatic sports and other courtesy privileges have been made by the Y. M. C. A. and the K. of C. for the boys they served in 1917 and 1918.

Shoppers, in addition to extending the facilities of their building, will conduct a series of automobile tours to points of historic, scenic and industrial interest in and about St. Paul for the various days of the convention. Distinguished guests and officials of the Legion will be housed at the Athletic and Minnesota clubs, where St. Paul people will be given a chance to meet them. At the Elks' club, the White Bear Yacht club, the Auto club and other civic organizations every effort will be made for the entertainment of the convention crowds.

Want 1925 Convention

Several invitations have been extended to the American Legion for its 1925 annual convention. Louisville, Ky., is seeking the convention with the support of the state department. Newark, N. J., is also after the honor of entertaining the Legionnaires. San Francisco, Cal., has extended an invitation for 1925, offering the use of its $2,000,000 Exposition Auditorium. San Francisco is the second city in which a national convention of the Legion has been held, to extend a pressing invitation to the veterans to return.

Origin of "Bungalow"

"Bungalow" comes from "bonglaw," meaning a Bengalee or built in the style of the Bengali, an East Indian word.

Drums of Skulls Used by Tibetans.
Drums, made out of the tops of skulls, over which is stretched human skin, are used to make "music" in various parts of Tibet. But skulls are not the only portion of their ancestors from which these fascinating people extract melody and rhythm. Many an intriguing tune is played on a native trumpet formed from a human thigh-bone drilled and holed and adapted to the production of sweet sound.

Effect of Vines on Walls.
Stone and brick buildings are not injured by clinging vines. These may keep the building cool somewhat later in the spring, but are otherwise harmless. On wooden buildings damage may be done, since many vines which climb by twining force their way through any joint which is not perfect and then by continued growth force the woodwork apart.

Chances of Longevity.
Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, diagnostician and author, says, "The average person does not stand the best chance of living long. The man or woman who weighs 20 or 30 per cent below the average has the best chance for long life. It is safe to say the average individual reaches the ideal build at thirty. If he can keep near that build for the rest of his life, he increases his chances of longevity."

Queen of Hearts.
The name, Queen of Hearts, was given to the low countries to Elizabeth, daughter of James I and the unfortunate queen of Bohemia. When her fortune was at the lowest ebb she never lost her dignity of spirit, and poverty and distress only rendered her the more an object of admiration.

Fireproof Papers.
Patents have been taken out at various times for paper which is claimed to be proof against fire, and therefore particularly suitable for documentary records. Most of these contain asbestos or a similar mineral fiber, with or without the addition of clays or metallic salts.

Let Kellogg's Bran free your children from that dangerous disease—constipation

Children are subject to constipation. In the excitement of play, they neglect themselves and foster this dread disease. More than forty other diseases can be traced to constipation. Don't delay. Begin at once to cleanse their systems of the dangerous poisons.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps the intestine clean—and purifies it. It drives out the poisons which undermine your children's health. It makes the bowels function regularly and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring results if eaten regularly, or your grocer will return your money. It is guaranteed because it is ALL bran! Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors everywhere—they know from experience that it brings results.

Ancient Egyptians Lived Well.
The ancient Egyptians had many luxuries, with gardens, orchards, fish ponds and game preserves. They were acquainted with the benefits of the rotation of crops, and their poultry extensively, practicing artificial hatching as early as the present time. As early as 4514 B. C. or 6,451 years ago, irrigation became an object of national importance to the Egyptians.

Figures Show Country's Growth.
A single New York city bank of today carries deposits equalling more than twenty-one times the total deposits in all the city's banks in 1847. The deposits in New York banks in the year 1847 totaled $28,000,000. These banks carried $11,000,000 of specie and had a circulation of about $7,000,000.

Progress, Progress!
Our suburban neighbors are dumping their worn tires and old electric bulbs into the same woodland dell where their fathers threw the rusty, leaky coal oil cans—Exchange.

Not the Best Way.
One way to be up with the lark is to keep the lark up all night—Boston Transcript.

Sun's Rays Generate Power.
The sun's rays are used to generate the power in a miniature engine recently demonstrated successfully in New York. A parabolic copper mirror focused the rays on a test tube full of water, making sufficient steam to work the engine.

Must Command Sympathy.
Nations, like individuals, are powerful in the degree that they command the sympathies of their neighbors—Bovee.

First Recorded Auto "Smash."
The first automobile "smash" on record occurred in 1896, when Jonathan West of Rochester, N. Y., riding in a car, collided with a wagon owned by a laundry company.

Presents Relic of War to Alliance (Ohio) Post

As a relic of the stirring war days, R. A. Lamont, of Alliance, Ohio, recently presented the American Legion of Alliance with a big gas shell. And thereby hangs a tale.

During the early stages of America's part in the World War, shell manufacturers experienced some difficulty in filling gas shells with a liquid that would produce the required results without corroding inside the shell, and losing part of its "authority." Lamont perfected a formula for a varnish to coat the inside of the shell that protected the steel lining and kept the gas compound at its maximum strength for Heine's benefit. This formula was presented to government experts, pronounced practical and was used there in America's gas shells. The gas shell presented to the Alliance Legionnaires is Lamont's test shell that the government accepted as "bookish." It will be used as a flag in the new Legion quarters, recently dedicated.

Lamont won recognition during the war, too, for a special treatment used on the grizzards and metal parts of the gas shells to prevent the intense cold from causing the soldiers' fingers to freeze to the guns.

Utah Department Wants Government Insurance

The American Legion, department of Utah, in convention at Spanish Fork, recently adopted resolutions to the effect that government insurance be required and be carried on according to approved commercial methods; that it be made into the relation between the head of the insurance department and the U. S. Veterans' bureau; that government insurance representatives in each state be appointed and that, if present laws permit, government insurance laws should be amended to permit the veteran, by paying one month's back premium, to receive the advance premium, to make that portion of his insurance which he is not drawing disability pension.

To Polish Furniture.

To give mahogany furniture that glossy appearance: To about a quart of clear water add a tablespoon of good strong vinegar. In this saturate a clean chamois and dry as possible, rub lightly over the surface to be cleaned and polished. If first application does not give the clear look, repeat operation in about a week.

Oil Keys in Oil.

Oil keys in oil occasionally will get in order. All hinges must be oiled with an oil feather now to save the annoyance of a squeak.

Water Carries Sound.

Sound of a bell, which can be heard from the water, travels through the air only.

Sure Are Conspicuous if Not Legion Members

"If you don't belong to the Legion in Ft. Pierce, you're conspicuous as a result of the rather startling but none the less truthful slogan that Ft. Pierce (Fla.) American Legionnaires have adopted, and for good reasons. There are just 258 white ex-service persons of the World War in Ft. Pierce and vicinity. Ft. Pierce post has enrolled every single one of the 258 available. Forty-four members were enrolled in a recent membership contest. The record of Ft. Pierce post as regards membership has not been equaled by any veteran unit in the country. The Florida department has made a remarkable membership record this year as was indicated recently when they won the Hankford MacNider trophy for greatest increase of membership over the 1923 enrollment. Florida department is unique, too, in that there is not a post in bad standing in the entire department.

Stormy Seas

The morning felicitations were well under way.
"I wish you'd take your spoon out of your coffee cup," she said.
"Why should you care?" the surly brute demanded.
"I merely wanted you to have plenty of room when you dip in your toast, dear!" she suggested sweetly.—American Legion Weekly.

If Interruptions Come.

So long as there is work to do there will be interruptions, breaks in its progress. And it is a part of one's character, growth, to bear these timely or untimely interruptions without any break in good temper or courtesy.

English Woman's Fool Fad.

Toys to play with, and a special little house for each dog, are included in the luxuries given to her Pekinese dogs by one London society woman, who believes in bringing up her pets to act like children.

Col. Cephas C. Bateman Becomes Legion Member

The San Diego (Cal.) post of the American Legion is proud of the distinction that has recently come to it in the enrollment as a member of Col. Cephas C. Bateman, chaplain U. S. A., retired, and the oldest member in point of unbroken service as chaplain in the United States army.

Colonel Bateman was born in Michigan in 1857, came to the Pacific coast in 1871 and was educated and ordained as a clergyman in California. He was appointed chaplain in the regular army by President McKinley, Harrison, in 1880 with the rank of captain, and was made a delegate to the World's Congress of Religions at the Columbian exposition in 1893. He served with Shafter at Santiago in 1898. He also served twice in the Philippines, more than a year, with troops in expeditions directed against the Moros. At the outbreak of the World War, Chaplain Bateman was active in the united war work drive and was later organizer and first director of the chaplain's school of the army now situated at Fort Leavenworth, retiring in 1921 on account of age.

After a lifetime of travel in service to his God, country and flag, Colonel Bateman has selected San Diego as his home and the American Legion, is proud of him and his splendid record, a loyal, active Legionnaire. Colonel Bateman has taken a keen interest in the work of the local post and finds himself thoroughly in sympathy with the aims and objects of the ex-service men.

Will Hold Big Celebration

Twenty-two posts of the American Legion in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, will unite on November 11 in a gigantic celebration of Armistice day. On the afternoon of Armistice day the Legionnaires of the county will gather at Public Square park, where they will be addressed by two men prominent in the affairs of the nation, one of whom will be Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. The second speaker has not been named.

About Hobbies.
Every hobbyist has his hobby above all others and there is something to be said for each one. Collecting of eggs, art or objects from shells is a hobby. Students of every subject from snails to stars, find special mental reasons for interest in their particular line. And the reasons for preference would make a very remarkable collection of wordy arguments.

Owl Stopped Wheels of Industry.

The curious combination of an owl and a steel trap in which the bird had become caught and down away, kept all night long on a high-powered electric cable carrying 11,000 volts of electricity to run a mill at Coos Bay, Conn., stopped the power and thereby caused several hundred men out of work for several hours. The men, after several hours' search, located the owl burned to a cinder.

Meaning Clear.

Richard had been ill, and although better now, was still in bed and required constant nursing. He called to his mother, but she happened to be busy and could not come, when upon the lad began to sob as if his heart would break, wailing over and over again, "Nobody loves me but myself, nobody loves me but myself."

Jealous Spaniards Hid Wives.

The so-called Venetian blinds first came to Venice from Spain, where they were called "jealousies." The jealous Spaniard hid his wife in seclusion. She was not allowed to draw up her blinds, but she might peep out through the slits, between the

Confidence Wins.
There is nothing that is more effective in promoting your mental elements to do better work and more work than the positive conviction that you can, the deep interior feeling that you can.—Larson.

The imagination is the only power I have that is creative. It is the only artist within me that is not a slave to its clay. My will power is weak, my memory is largely automatic, and my desires work right along without asking my permission.—Frank Crane.

How French Got Nickname.

The nickname "frogs" was first applied to the people of Paris by the courtiers. The streets of the city were so quaggy that the inhabitants were nicknamed "Jean-Crapaud" (John Frog); while the city was known as "Lurella" or "Midland."

She Was Interested.

A child who recently moved into the neighborhood became so interested in a young woman that daily she would wait for her to pass the house. One day she walked right in the woman's way and smiling said, "Whose man are you?"

Measuring Corn in Crib.
To figure the number of bushels of corn in a crib multiply the length of the crib by the width by the height by four-tenths if corn is of good quality after several months in crib or by four-tenths if corn is new or of inferior quality. If the corn carries the shuck, multiply length by width by height and divide by three. If the width or length of the crib is different at the top and bottom of the pile of corn, use the average.

Some Idea of a Garden.

Letter from a "moderately sensible" man to a seed merchant: "Dear Sir—Having one-quarter acre of ground not used for anything but growing stores, I wish to make it into a profitable and attractive garden. Please send me one dozen strawberry seeds; one bee, with hive complete; one dozen plum seeds; ten square yards of grass; one concrete path, winding; six fall flowers, with six pieces of wall; one safety lawn mower, with patent apparatus for converting it into a safety razor. And please send enough baskets to hold the strawberry and plum crops, and side and back combs for the honey. The grass should be green—not the withered kind I see in so many gardens—and the seeds of a flavor unsuitable for chickens. Yours truly, A. R. Qal."

Gladstone's Recreations.

Gladstone, who very rarely lost sleep as the result of political worry, found solace in music all through his career, though it is possible that his woodmanship was not less useful in distracting his mind, and background was sometimes requisitioned as well.

Englishman's Afternoon Tea.

Writes an Englishwoman: "The Frenchman dines with mellowness and joy in living. The American thrills by doing something differently. The German expands under the influence of opera with ham sandwiches. The English love of formalism makes tea a regular institution, and then proceeds about it, except its everyday existence. Nor does this apply to a particular class. The cottage tea with its big loaf and its thick black liquor, is just as much of an institution as the cathedral tea, with its delicate blend from China and its bread and butter. There is the same warm and generous feeling about it as in the crispness of the falling tea and the pungent smell of its burning and the glow of its flames against the blue mist of the darkening afternoon."

The Plighted Word.

The heaviest fetter that ever weighed down the limbs of a captive is as the web of the gossamer compared with the pledge of people of honor. The wall of stone and the bar of iron may be broken, but the plighted word, never.
